OptiView 100
OV-100
LCD VIEWFINDER

USER MANUAL

Thank you for choosing Elvid.

The Elvid OptiView 100 is a viewfinder that blocks out bright light so you can see the image on your LCD screen in greater detail. It fits screens up to 3.2 inches and features multi-coated optical glass for sharp images from edge to edge. A ± 3 diopter is easy to adjust and makes it possible to use the viewfinder without glasses. Adhere the magnetic mounting frame to your screen and quickly snap on the viewfinder. This provides optimal viewing conditions when shooting video or photos, so you see only your image.

MOUNTING THE OPTIVIEW 100

Note: Once the OptiView 100's mounting frame is attached to the camera with adhesive, the adhesive cannot be reused.

1. Clean the camera's LCD screen with a soft, dry cloth.
2. Remove the mounting frame from the viewfinder.

3. Remove the protective strip on the adhesive side of the mounting frame. Make sure to carefully center the mounting frame before securing it on your camera's LCD screen. Apply the adhesive at room temperature.

4. Once mounted on the camera, attach the viewfinder to the mounting frame. The magnets on the viewfinder allow it to snap into place.

USING THE OPTIVIEW 100 AS AN LCD SHADE

1. Detach the viewfinder from the magnetic mounting frame on the LCD.

2. Firmly hold the viewfinder, apply pressure to the grooves, and separate the two pieces.

3. Reattach the lower half of the viewfinder onto the mounting frame until it snaps into place.

USING THE RUBBER BUMPER

The rubber bumper covers the end of the viewfinder. This is ideal to eliminate scratches when used over your camera's LCD screen while quickly viewing your image.

REMOVING THE OPTIVIEW 100

Note: Once the OptiView's mounting frame has been detached from the camera, it cannot be reattached.

1. Remove the viewfinder from the mounting frame.
2. Heat the mounting frame with a blow-dryer approximately 2 inches away for 30 to 45 seconds.
3. When the frame's adhesive loosens, use your fingernail to lift the frame off of the camera. Do not pry the frame with a hard object that can damage the LCD screen. Apply more heat with the blow-dryer if the frame does not release easily.
